POST Director of the Galileo Programme and Navigation-Related Activities.

GRADE Off-scale.

LOCATION ESA Headquarters, Paris (France).

DUTIES The European Space Agency (ESA) is Europe's gateway to space. Its mission is to shape the development of Europe's space capability and ensure that investment in space continues to deliver benefits to the citizens of Europe and the world.

Under the direct authority of the Director General, the Director of the Galileo Programme and Navigation-Related Activities is responsible for contributing to ESA-wide management, supporting the ESA Director General in discharging his responsibility and tasks and participating in the pursuit of ESA's overall objectives. The Director contributes, in the area of Space Applications, to forming the "Team of Teams" at senior management level.

In the framework of the ESA matrix organisation comprising programme directorates and support directorates, the Director of the Galileo Programme and Navigation-Related Activities, under delegation from the Director General, is responsible for the preparation and execution of the Galileo Programme and navigation-related activities under ESA responsibility.

QUALIFICATIONS Applicants for this post should have a higher technical or scientific education, coupled with in-depth knowledge and experience in functions similar to those described above, preferably acquired in an international setting and including close cooperation with partner organisations.

Key qualities required for the post are an innovative spirit and a strategically-oriented mind, a proven capacity to lead change and manage people and teams, excellent relationship management and negotiation skills and the ability to influence high-level decisions.

For the full set of competencies expected from ESA leaders, please refer to Leadership Competencies.

Applicants must be eligible for security clearance by their national security administrations.

The working languages of the Agency are English and French. An excellent knowledge of one of these two languages is required together with a good working knowledge of the other language. Knowledge of another Member State language is an asset.
